

UHF REMOTE CONTROLLED
KEY (January 1987, File: 3/MS/126):

Some readers have commented that sometimes the system fails to operate, but operation can be restored by touching the copper side of the transmitter board. Soldering a 100k ohm resistor across the LED in the transmitter solves this problem, providing a DC return between supply and ground.
